

Two Senators Hold Fate of Arms Sales To Britain, France

Gillette of Iowa, George of Georgia Can Count Only on 11 of 23 Votes of Committee

Approval Needed

Little Chance of Passage Without the Committee's Approval

Washington, July 8 (AP)—The fate of the administration's efforts to clear the way for arms sales to Britain and France, in event those countries become engaged in war, appeared today to rest largely in the hands of two Democrats who often have opposed New Deal legislation.

They are Senators Gillette of Iowa and George of Georgia. Polls of the Senate foreign relations committee indicated, some senators on both sides of the controversy said, that the administration could safely count on only 11 of 23 committee votes for a motion to strike out the modified arms embargo which the House incorporated recently in legislation to change the neutrality act.

Without committee approval, these senators said, there was little chance of the Senate reversing the House stand, inasmuch as foes of the administration's proposals to repeal the present neutrality law said yesterday that 34 senators had subscribed to a statement opposing any change in the statute at this time.

Neither Gillette nor George, who are committee members, would say how he intended to vote when the issue was brought before the committee at a meeting next Tuesday.

Gillette disclosed, however, that he had conferred late yesterday with three cabinet officers, including Secretary of State Hull. He declined to identify the other two, but newsmen noted that both Attorney General Murphy and Postmaster General Farley visited the capital yesterday.

Gillette said the cabinet members had been asked by President Roosevelt to urge him to support the administration in the neutrality controversy. He declined further comment, except to say: "I am unwaveringly in a very strategic position, it seems."

George, whose re-election to the Senate was opposed by President Roosevelt in the Georgia primary last summer, said he had not made up his mind yet how he would vote. Secretary Hull, a friend of long standing, was reported to have urged George to support the administration's request for repeal of the present arms embargo provision, which directs the President to forbid arms sales to warring nations.

Administration leaders have argued for repeal of the embargo on the grounds that the knowledge that England and France could obtain arms here would act as a restraining influence on other nations.

Buys Tom-Tom

Albuquerque, N. M., July 8 (AP)—Leopold Stokowski walked up to a bronzed, expressionless Indian, thumped the brave's tom-tom with an experienced slender hand and then bought the primitive musical instrument for $250. The famed orchestra leader was en route to Hollywood from New York.

Cites Violations

U. S. Grand Jury Charges Federal and State Law Breaking in South

New Orleans, July 8 (AP)—Disclosure that a U. S. Grand Jury has charged federal and state law violations in Louisiana sharply emphasized today the turn taken in the investigations set off by a university scandal.

Revelation of the jury's findings came from District Attorney Rene A. Viosca after a third arrest in the inquiries originally centering on Louisiana State University's former president, Dr. James Monroe Smith, charged with embezzling school funds.

Mrs. Florence Polillo (above) was the third victim in Cleveland's bizarre series of "torso murders" and Sheriff Martin L. O'Donnell announced that Frank Dolezal, 52-year-old bricklayer, had confessed killing her and possibly was involved in at least two other slayings.

Sheriff Continues Questioning Man In 'Torso' Deaths

Officials Are Not Satisfied With Man's Faulty 'Confession' Which They Say He Signed

Cleveland, July 8 (AP)—Sheriff Martin L. O'Donnell renewed his questioning of a brawny bricklayer today as he sought to clear up discrepancies in the man's story of beheading and cutting to pieces the body of Mrs. Florence Polillo, one of the 12 victims in Cleveland's bizarre torso slayings that have baffled authorities four years.

O'Donnell said Frank Dolezal, 52, the suspect, had signed a confession to the Polillo slaying.

"There are some discrepancies between what Dolezal says he did and what are the known facts in the Polillo case," O'Donnell said. "We want to get a confession that will hold up in court before we place any charges against him."

"However, I have no doubt he is the man."

O'Donnell said Dolezal admitted hacking to pieces the body of Mrs. Polillo, the No. 3 torso victim, and tossing the head, lower legs and left arm into Lake Erie in January, 1936.

The sheriff announced yesterday that the bricklayer had confessed orally. Last night he told reporters the suspect had signed a confession, but refused to release the text until "we get the kind of confession we want."

O'Donnell indicated that he would make no definite attempt to link the suspect to the 11 other torso slayings until he had cleared up the Polillo case.

He said, however: "I really think he's in on some of the other torso murders. We think he is involved in at least two more—Mrs. Rose Wallace, 40, (a negro) and Edward W. Andreassy, 28. He knew them both."

14 Persons Suffer From Gas Fumes

Wind Blows Chlorine Gas Over Swimming Pool at Utica; 64 Are Treated

Utica, N. Y., July 8 (AP)—Fourteen persons, three in serious condition, were hospitalized today after they had been overcome by chlorine gas swept by wind over a municipal swimming pool.

Doctors and firemen treated 64 others with inhalators. The victims, many of whom were in the water, were affected yesterday when a gust of wind blew across the pool fumes from a storage tank which attendants had opened preparatory to connecting it with the pool's chlorinating apparatus.

Hospital attaches said they did not believe those seriously hurt would have permanent effects. The chlorine was used to purify the water, a system in use in similar pools throughout the nation.

Officials at Faxon Hospital, where the victims were treated, said William Rubin, 60, New York City; Clarence Mosher, 17, and Leonard Nunno, 42, both of Utica, were in serious condition.

More than 50 of those affected were children, who coughed and screamed as lifeguards blew whistles to clear the pool. Some swimmers and spectators collapsed at the scene.

Pays $5 Fine
Umberto Framontin of New York, who was arrested shortly before noon yesterday on charges of speeding and driving a car with one license plate, was fined $5 when arraigned in city court. A fine of $5 on the other charge was suspended and Framontin was ordered by the court to get a new set of license plates.

Southern England 'Blackout' Tonight Vitrally Important

Air Raid Defenses of London's Dock Region and Thames Valley Prepared for Test

Outer Mongolia

Japanese Say 60,000 Soviet Reinforcements Are Now on Border

(By The Associated Press)
Populous southern England, but a few minutes from the continent by air, interrupted normal weekend routine for a great air raid precaution test tonight calling for a six-hour "blackout" over a 16,000 square mile area.

In addition, the vital London region was prepared for a separate test of precautionary measures planned to protect the vast dock region and 40 miles of the Thames river valley from enemy bombing planes.

The Newspaper ABC in Warsaw reported that Danzig authorities were building coast fortifications for the Free City. Official Polish circles listed a four-point "reminder" of the "basic elements" in the Polish attitude toward Danzig, which Nazis want to rejoin to Germany.

The "reminder" declared against any return of Danzig to the Reich. An Associated Press correspondent at the scene of fighting between Mongolian-Soviet and Japanese-Manchoukuan forces on the border between Manchoukuo and Outer Mongolia reported the possibility of extension of the conflict southward. A Japanese official said 60,000 Soviet reinforcements were in Outer Mongolia and that the Japanese had reinforcements nearby.

In Madrid the last man to head Republican Spain, Socialist Professor Julian Besteiro, went on trial before a military tribunal charged with "aiding rebellion."

Peril From the Air
London, July 8 (AP)—Arrangements for a "blackout" over a strategic, densely settled 16,000 square miles of southern England reminded Great Britain today of her peril from the air.

The six-hour test of extensive air raid precautions, organized jointly by civil defense forces and the royal air force, was planned to begin at 11 p. m. (5 p. m., EST) and cover all of southern England except London and Devonshire and Cornwall in the extreme southwest.

London prepared for a separate test, but a vitally important one. The port of London authority arranged to test the whole ARP (air raid precaution) organization along 40 miles of the Thames.

Both because of the importance of London's docks and because of the case with which enemy airmen could spot the river, these tests were considered to be particularly vital.

The key area of the exercises outside London was in Kent and Sussex in the southeast—two counties nearest the continent, with a large number of vulnerable coast towns and extensive, newly developed industrial sections.

The remaining counties agreed to cooperate as a rehearsal for an even larger, 26-county "blackout" in which all are scheduled to participate next month.

The tests called for R. A. F. bombers and fighter squadrons to roar over darkened towns as small, high explosive and incendiary bombs explode in vacant lots to give a realistic touch. Other planes were to carry observers.

Mongolians Surrounding
With Japanese troops on the Mongolian frontier, July 6 (delayed) (AP) With Mongolian troops surrounded by Japanese who hold parts of two contested heights, the future course of current border warfare apparently depended today upon whether Soviet-Mongolian forces use available reinforcements.

A high ranking Japanese officer said 60,000 Soviet reinforcements were now in Outer Mongolia. Strong Japanese reinforcements were reported authoritatively to have arrived at Halunashan, indicating a possible extension of the front to the southeast, or a new battle within a few days. The officer said Japanese had sufficient men and equipment to repel a Soviet attack in any part of Manchoukuo.

(Hulunashan is some 185 miles southeast of Lake Bor, on the eastern frontier of Mongolia. The scene of the present border fighting, which has been intermittent since May 11, is along the Khalka river, about 60 miles east and south of the lake.)

Milton Fire Chief Held for Ulster's Grand Jury Action

Frederick J. Thiell Is Held Under $3,000 Property Bond; Is Discharged From Hospital

Frederick J. Thiell of Milton, chief of the village fire department, was placed under arrest at Highland yesterday by Sergeant E. J. Hulse of the New York State Troopers who served a warrant sworn out by Trooper John Metzger of the B. C. I. in which the Milton fire chief is charged with criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle.

Thiell is charged specifically in the warrant with criminal negligence in the operation of the Milton fire truck on June 18 when it crashed on a road between Milton and Marlborough and crashed, Fanizli, Milton grill proprietor, was killed and another occupant of the fire truck, Clarence Alsford, also of Milton, later died in a Poughkeepsie hospital.

Under $3,000 Bond
Arraigned before Justice U. P. Decker under the warrant Thiell waived examination and was held under $3,000 property bond for grand jury action.

Chief Thiell has been confined to the hospital since the accident and appeared in court in an apparent weak condition and with his shoulder in a cast. He was discharged yesterday from the hospital.

On what investigating officers and the fire commissioners have called an "unauthorized run" the fire truck was driven on July 18 to Marlborough and after stopping at the McGowan Hotel for a time Thiell with several companions, none of whom were members of the Milton fire department, started back for Milton. Near the Hepworth fruit stand the pumper passed a vehicle going north on a blind curve and then as it entered a stretch it apparently went out of control. Narrowly missing several cars it finally collided with a car, left the road and crashed in the ditch. All of the occupants of the truck were injured. Fanizli was the first to die. Later Alsford died at the hospital. Five others were injured.

At Vassar Hospital Thiell's condition was serious for several days. As a result of an investigation (Continued on Page 12)

General Motors Suspends Its Policy of Loans to Idle Men

Detroit, July 8 (AP)—General Motors Corp., anticipating a possible delay in starting 1940 model production because of a strike of skilled workers, today suspended loans to idle employees.

The first of this year the corporation had placed in effect an "income security" plan, designed to take care of employees during inevitable periods of temporary lay-off. It provided that General Motors would advance the difference between an employee's actual earnings in a given week and 60 percent of his normal income.

William S. Knudson, G. M. president, announced that the plan would be suspended in all plants affected directly or indirectly by the strike, which he said "is simply another chapter of the jurisdictional fight between the CIO and AFL United Automobile Workers Union."

Six thousand tool and die workers, engineers and maintenance men have walked out this week at eight G. M. plants in Detroit and one at Pontiac, Mich. The strike was called by the UAW-CIO because the corporation refused to negotiate a supplementary contract covering such skilled workers until there is a legal determination of which union holds the present G. M. contract.

Walter P. Reuther, director of the G. M. department of the UAW-CIO, said the "so-called income security" plan never added one penny to the incomes of the corporation's quarter of a million workers but that "the very necessity for such a plan indicated the failure of General Motors to provide its workers with a decent annual wage."

"For the corporation to withdraw the ending arrangement now," Reuther added, "is a piece of pettiness that no one would hardly expect from the third richest corporation in the country."

In discussing the strike Knudson said it "is not on account of low wages or bad working conditions—such conditions do not exist in General Motors plants."

Holy Name Rally Plans Discussed At Local Meeting

Archdiocesan Conclave on October 1 Will Be Held at Municipal Stadium; Big Parade Planned

At a meeting of the Ulster county committee held last evening at St. Joseph's rectory plans for the archdiocesan rally of Holy Name societies to be held at the Kingston Municipal Stadium on Sunday, October 1, were discussed. It is planned to hold a meeting of all committees on August 1 when final plans will be made for the rally which will bring 5,000 members of the society to Kingston next fall.

One of the features of the rally will be a parade which will precede the ceremonies at the stadium. Plans are to parade from the lower section of the city to the stadium and Joseph Murphy, chief of the Kingston Fire Department will act as grand marshal.

At the stadium there will be recited the Holy Name pledge, members of the choir of Mt. St. Alphonsus will be present with 60 voices and there will be a lay speaker as well as some prominent Catholic priest. The entire assemblage will unite in singing "Holy God We Praise Thy Name." The ceremonies at the stadium will be in charge of William B. Martin of this city.

Parade at 2 P. M.
It is expected the parade will start at 2 o'clock and the ceremonies at the stadium will follow immediately.

The meeting last evening, was called by the Rev. Edmund Burke, divisional director of Ulster county, who outlined the plans in general to the committees and the Very Rev. Martin J. Drury of St. Mary's Church, dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties, spoke briefly on the rally. After these talks the meeting was turned over to Lay Chairman William R. Johnson of Saugerties who will lead the committees in charge of the rally. Gustav Kogel of St. Mary's parish is vice chairman and Joseph J. Morgan is secretary.

There will be a large delegation present not only from Ulster county but metropolitan New York, Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Rockland and Sullivan counties. New York city has decided to send a large delegation despite the distance to travel. Plans of a more definite nature will be made at the meeting of the general committees on August 1. A loud speaking system will be installed.

Two Local Boys Are Located in Bridgeport

Local police learned last evening that Edward Coddington, 14, of 33 West Strand, who has been reported missing from home since Wednesday, had gone to Bridgeport, Conn., and with him was Joseph Cumbeles, 19, of 15 Chambers street, who had also been missing since Wednesday.

The two young men, according to word received by the local police from Bridgeport were picked up in that city by the police after they were found sleeping in a truck. Relatives of the boys left last night for Bridgeport accompanied by Officers Erophy and Harnen to return the youths to their homes here.

A report that the boys might have gone to the home of a grandfather of one of them was about to be investigated, when the police learned they had been located.

37 Persons Are Dead In Nation's Heat Wave

(By The Associated Press)
A heat wave in which a large part of the nation's population suffered continued today with a death toll of at least 37.

Forecasters of the Chicago weather bureau said relief in the form of showers or cooling winds was moving into some middle west areas but, they added, "warmer tomorrow" was the prospect for even those localities.

They foresaw no immediate general relief. Midnight temperatures indicated how oppressive was the heat. It was 93 at Phoenix, Ariz. Tucson reported 88; St. Louis, Mo., 87; Kansas City, Mo., 86; Dallas, Tex., 84; Chicago, 81. The Pacific northwest was substantially cooler, however, at that hour.

A drought in New Mexico entered its fifth week, with scattered thundershowers offering scant relief.

L. H. Herzog Gets $8,000 WPA Salary

Clarence Post Ranks Next in Uptate Listing, Survey for Group Shows

Washington, July 8 (AP)—Twenty-five WPA administrative employees in upstate New York receive $4,000 a year or more and 185 are paid $2,000 or more, a report filed by the works projects administration with a house appropriations subcommittee reveals. The list, submitted at the request of some members of the committee which recently completed a preliminary investigation of the WPA, covers 500 administrative employees in the state outside New York city receiving $1,200 annually or more.

Top salary listed was the $8,000 a year paid to Lester W. Herzog, Albany, upstate WPA administrator. Next highest paid administrative employee was Clarence W. Post, also of Albany, $6,400 annually. Three other executives all of Albany, receive $5,800 each: Arthur H. Myers, assistant administrator; William J. Murray, director of employment, and John J. Connor, director of the finance division.

Guy W. Rice, Buffalo, area director, was listed at $5,000. Three women were among those in the top salary brackets. Anne Marie Garrity, Albany, an executive assistant, was listed at $4,200 a year, Mary V. Bolton, Albany, an assistant director, $4,000, and Anne McIntyre, Larchmont, director, $4,200.

Other top salaries included: $3,900—William Jeffery Sims, Hempstead, supervisor; $3,600—James G. Buckman, Floral Park, supervisor of payroll; Joseph A. Ryan, Yonkers, supervisor.

AFL Chiefs Estimate About 100,000 Workers Over Nation Made Idle by Protests

Figures Vary

WPA Authorities Differ on Extent of Projects Stoppage

(By The Associated Press)

Spreading strikes and protest walkouts by skilled craftsmen on the WPA against sub-union wages and longer hours, today drew an official threat that all persons who interfered with WPA projects would be prosecuted on felony charges.

Simultaneously, under strong pressure from AFL leaders, supported by rival CIO chiefs in a united labor front, a movement developed among some members of congress to review the new relief act and restore prevailing union wage standards.

AFL officials estimated 100,000 WPA workers over the nation had been made idle by the mass protests against the action of congress in setting their work month at 130 hours. Heretofore, under the prevailing wage scale system, some workers earned their monthly wage in as few as 50 hours, although others were required to work longer, depending on the local scale for their type of work.

WPA officials differed with union leaders on the extent of the strike, but in Washington, Col. F. C. Harrington, works projects commissioner, said the work stoppage was "growing, but not very rapidly."

Threat Is Voiced

The threat of federal prosecution was voiced in New York city by local Administrator Col. Brehon Somervell, who said he had asked U. S. Attorney John T. Cahill for an interpretation of section 38 of the federal-relief act. The section makes it a felony to deprive relief workers of their benefits by "fraud, force, threat, intimidation or boycott." The maximum penalty is a $2,000 fine, two years in prison, or both.

Col. Somervell declined to say whether he was considering action against workers who remained away from their tasks, pickets, or vendors who refused to deliver materials to WPA projects.

Refusing to recognize the work stoppage as a strike, he described the situation as "incomprehensible."

'It's Fantastic'
"You can't strike against relief," he said. "It's fantastic."

He said work on the $400,000 North Beach airport had been cut to 25 percent of normal volume, but sharply denied a statement by President Thomas A. Murray of the building trades council, that 60,000 of the 75,000 WPA workers in New York city building projects were off the job. He set the number at 12,000.

As the AFL sent out a call to its leaders to assemble in Washington July 12 for a strategy conference, George Meany, president of the New York State Federation of Labor (AFL) declared, "hourly wages of skilled craftsmen on WPA projects cannot be slashed without setting a precedent for private employment."

"We won't go below the union scale for anybody."

Although workers filtered back to their jobs in many communities, others joined in the mass protests, strongest in such cities as New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cleveland and Toledo.

No workers were reported out in Maine, Connecticut, Maryland, Tennessee, Kentucky, Vermont or Louisiana.

State Funeral

Senate Chamber Will Hold Body of Claude Swanson; Burial in Virginia

Washington, July 8 (AP)—A state funeral was arranged today for Claude A. Swanson in the Senate chamber where he represented his native Virginia for 22 years before President Roosevelt made him secretary of the navy. (Eastern Standard Time) Monday. Burial will be in Hollywood Cemetery, Richmond, Va., that afternoon.

President Roosevelt ordered national mourning and directed that flags on all federal buildings and on naval craft everywhere, from Singapore to Portsmouth, be lowered to half staff until after the burial. Beginning at noon today, the guns of the fleet anchored at San Pedro, Calif., were to boom out a 19-gun salute.

Naval officers will wear black arm bands and black tassels on their swords for the next 30 days.

Days of the Week

It is interesting to trace the origins of the names of days of the week. Sunday, of course, was devoted to the worship of the sun, and Monday was originally Monday. Tuesday (Saxon) Tuesday's day from Tiu, a mythical person, supposed to have been the first warlike leader of the Teutonic nations. Among the Romans it was Dies Martis, the day of Mars, their god of war. Wednesday (Saxon) Woden's day, the day of Woden, or Odin a mythical being of high warlike reputation among the northern nations. Among the Romans this day was Mercurii's day. Thursday (Saxon) was dedicated to the Saxa god Thor, who in his supremacy over other gods and his attribute of the Thunderer, corresponds very exactly with Jupiter, whose day this was among the Romans. Friday (Saxon) was named by the Saxon in honor of the Deity Friga or Freya. Among the Romans the day was dedicated to Venus. Saturday (Saxon), Saturn, the fast day of the deity.

The reduction in interest rates on time deposits by many of our banks, the inability to earn on highest grade investments in excess of the interest rate now paid by local savings banks, and the best interests of our depositors, in the judgment of the trustees, required a limit on the amount received to a single account in any quarter of the year and accordingly action was taken at a regular monthly meeting held today limiting the amount of additional deposits to the credit of an account in any quarter to the sum of $750.00, and new depositors to residents of the County of Ulster. No change was made in the interest rate.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 8 (AP)—A few utilities, coppers and specialties held the buying play in today's brief stock market proceedings while numerous so-called leaders were left to shift for themselves at slightly lower levels.

Price changes, on the whole, brokers said, were without a great deal of meaning inasmuch as activity was exceptionally slack throughout. Transfers of approximately 100,000 shares were among the smallest for more than a year. Closing prices were moderately mixed.

Shares supported the greater part of the time included Consolidated Edison, Public Service of N. J., Anaconda, Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, N. Y. Shipbuilding, Pennsylvania, General Tire, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck and J. C. Penney. Backward were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, U. S. Gypsum, Standard Oil of N. J., Cerro de Pasco and Southern Railway.

Bonds and commodities were irregularly lower.

Services at 10:30

Church services at the West Hurley Church at 10:30 instead of 10 o'clock as was reported yesterday in the West Hurley news.

Market Continued In Low Volume

The market Friday continued in low volume, with changes slight and meaningless. What changes there were in the rails and utilities left them on the up side, while industrials again showed a slight drop. Industrials in the Dow-Jones averages closed off 0.36 point, to 133.22; rails were up 0.05 point, to 26.75 and utilities gained a small fraction, to 23.61. Prices closed at the lows for the day.

With the foreign situation just at present less exciting there were several items of domestic news that ordinarily would have given a bit of spur to the market. Carloadings for the week ended July 1 totaled 665,528 cars, highest since November 3 and best showing for the season since November, 1937. Auto sales for June showed the best increase over 1938 for any month this year, there having been a sharp improvement during the last 10 days of the month. For the fourth consecutive week Barron's business index showed an advance, standing at 72.6 per cent of normal for the week ended July 1, a gain of 0.9 point over the preceding week and comparing with 53.2 per cent a year ago. The price of domestic copper advanced one-quarter of a cent, to 10.25 cents a pound, with insistent consumer demand. Figures given out yesterday disclosed that copper sales Thursday totaled 36,051 tons, bettering all previous totals since July 1, 1938.

Sales by chain and mail order stores during the first half of the current year showed substantial gains. Figures for June showed no let-up in buying and with the first 24 hours to report for June having an average increase of 12.9 per cent indications are that most of the units will show larger earnings than in the first half of 1938. Some reports for June include: J. C. Penney Co., $22,235,459, vs. $20,321,051 in June, 1938; G. C. Murphy Co., $3,758,316, vs. $3,293,857; Lane Bryant, $1,282,067, vs. $1,178,539; Walgreen Co., $5,551,428, vs. $5,213,298.

Department store sales the country over showed an increase of three per cent over last year for the week ended July 1 according to Federal Reserve reports. Westinghouse Electric business continued its rate of gain for the second quarter, and new orders booked for the first half should show an increase of around 35 per cent over the first six months of 1938. Bookings for the six months were around $100,000,000, compared with $76,713,806 in the 1938 period. Sales of electric refrigerators especially have been good.

About 6,000 men in eight General Motors plants now are out of work as three more tool and die departments were closed yesterday by striking CIO workers.

The Packard UAW local (CIO) has filed a petition with the NLRB asking for an election to determine sole bargaining rights in Packard Motor Car plants. Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Co. had estimated profits for six months ended June 30, before depreciation, depletion and federal income taxes, of $561,400; compared with $1,002,500 in the first half of 1938.

It is stated that administration officials are fearful that if Congress approves legislation terminating foreign silver purchases the action would jeopardize negotiations for settlement of claims for oil properties of Americans seized by the Mexican government.

Panama Canal Figures
The soil excavated at Panama would make a wall as high and as wide as the ancient Chinese Wall and reaching all the way from San Francisco to New York. It would make a pyramid 4,200 feet high or four-fifths of a mile, obliterating the Washington monument, the White House, state, war, navy and treasury buildings and all the finest official part of the city of Washington. During six years the amount of quinine distributed free among canal employees was 15,000 pounds, an average of 2,000 pounds per year.

Most of what has been said of Japanese art applies also to Chinese art. There is greater use of stone in architecture and sculpture. There is more that is grotesque and less that is decorative in Chinese art. But in their idealism, symbolism, indifference to the human figure, and preference for objects taken from nature, the two national systems of art are much alike. The conventionality of Chinese art is perhaps even more pronounced. The high place given to calligraphy as an art is an excellent illustration. In both China and Japan often specimens of fine writing hung upon the walls of rooms for purposes of decoration. In fact, in the six arts recognized by the Chinese—namely, ceremonial, music, archery, charioteering, writing and mathematics—painting and sculpture are included under writing. This is reminiscent of the fact that the written characters still used were derived more or less directly from pictographs.

IMMIGRANT INDUSTRY

Officials of the Bata Shoe Company, famous Czechoslovakian concern, have been looking around in this part of the world for a factory site and opportunity to carry on their business. They approve of a place near Belleville, Ontario, and would like to build there a manufacturing center and model community. They wish, however, to bring in about 250 key men from the parent company in Prague to set up the special machinery. Many other workmen, mostly Canadians living in the region, will be hired. There has been some question of the government's granting permission for entry of the Czech workmen, but the present view is that this permission will be given.

Such a move would have the blessing of the Warton, Ont., Echo, which takes a common sense view of the matter. In a recent issue, the Echo says:

"Many feel that jobs should be made for the people here, but an increase in population means an increase in consumption and if we do not open our gates to desirables we may be forced to open them to others who will come whether we like it or not.

"Canada cannot live unto itself alone and a factory that would employ hundreds of workmen and which already has an established trade in England should be welcomed without controversy.

"What would Warton give to have the Bata Shoe Company settle in our town?" That is an intelligent attitude and would apply to other industries seeking to leave totalitarian countries and establish themselves in free lands. It could well be applied, too, to admission of many individual refugees to countries like the United States and Canada.

INSUFFICIENT WAR CHEST

German financial authorities are not satisfied with the government's golden war chest. Although the Reich has claimed economic self-sufficiency without the precious metal, it is recognized that the stuff is still as important for a successful war as the ammunition of baser metal.

The Reich has amassed quite a supply of gold by various means, including seizure of Austrian and Czech cash. It has collected currency of gold from private sources and has imposed the death penalty for withholding it. It has taken jewelry from the Jews for this purpose. It is considering how much more could be brought in by asking women to donate their wedding rings. The government is also on a "constant shopping tour" for foreign exchange and has tried many ways to bring more of it into the country.

Yet, with all these efforts, it is estimated that the war chest is big enough only for a "short war".

Will any general European struggle be short? Probably not. But will understanding of this possibility deter the men in power from precipitating war? Many people wish they knew!

NATION IN DOUBT

It is strange that the most powerful nation on earth today should also be the weakest. We have unquestionably the most wealth, the most favorable situation, the most reason to face the present and future with confidence. We are far removed from most of the imminent perils that confront other nations. We are potentially able, within a decade or two, to establish here in this favored land a civilization and a standard of living that would be a challenge to any other in the world. And yet we are not taking advantage of our opportunities and using our material resources.

For we seem demoralized economically, politically, spiritually. Kipling may have foreseen something like this when he told how the American, "born by many doubts," at last "wakes the drumming guns that have no auspicious." May it not come to that now!

NEW MAURETANIA

A new ship is sailing the high seas, plying the North Atlantic route between England and the United States. It is the Mauretania, built to replace the famous Mauretania of old which has recently been retired after long years of service. The first Mauretania held the speed record for crossings for more than twenty years.

The new Mauretania will not rival the old in that particular respect. She is not built for speed, but is frankly a six-to-seven-day packet. Let the blue ribbon float where it may, this fine new vessel will go about its unspectacular business unhurriedly, with dignity and unconcern. It is said that the new Mauretania, because it is not a super-liner and is not out to break records, looks more as lovers of the sea think a ship should look. The weird construction essential to gigantic size and speed was ignored. The Mauretania has no bulbous bows. Her builders will be content to leave the fast crossings to the new air services coming into being.

May the Mauretania be a popular ship and lead a long and busy life.

AGRICULTURAL PEACE

Henry Ford, bringing out a new farm tractor, preaches again the merits of farm mechanization and describes his latest contribution as "an instrument for peace that will revolutionize agriculture."

Many will hope so. But does the easing of farm jobs bring peace, or does it only make more sturdy farm boys available for army service? The word from Berlin lately has been that military operations will begin in Central Europe "as soon as the grain is reaped." That job will be done much more quickly than usual, with the latest machinery.

There is a tradition, too, of "turning plowshares into swords." Nowadays it would be turning farm tractors into gun tractors. Quite possibly some of the foreign powers have such double-service outfits.

They're playing tennis at Wimbledon these days, and the players come from twenty or more different countries, including Germany and Poland. If it works in sport why can't international good feeling work also in statecraft?

Certainly this nation is neutral—with a leaning, of course, toward the other democracies, whenever things get hot.

Over here, too, there are millions of people demanding "lebensraum," room to live. They are the summer vacationists.

There would be much less government trouble if the national capital were in a cooler climate-belt.

The surest way to have war is to believe it is inevitable.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)
 RESTORING APPARENTLY DROWNED

One of my boyhood heroes was a boy of 12 who was a most wonderful swimmer and diver. One of his feats was that of rescuing another boy who had been under water seven minutes and by artificial respiration was brought back to consciousness. While the story of the rescue was correct, the time under water was doubted as no one had been under water for more than three or four minutes and survive. While more than three or four minutes were to continue artificial respiration for "hours" to revive a body that had been under water for more than three or four minutes was considered hopeless.

It is gratifying to learn that a body can be under water for a considerable time and be brought back to consciousness as reported by Drs. Gordon Bates, R. E. Gaby and Willis MacLachlan, B.Sc., in Canadian Medical Association Journal. They state that there are several misconceptions about reviving the apparently drowned. Most outstanding of these mistakes are:

That being under water for more than four or five minutes is always fatal.
 That in an apparently drowned person the absence of the ordinary signs of life—heart sounds, pulse beat, breathing—means that the individual is dead and there is no use in using artificial respiration.

That artificial respiration need only be kept up for a half hour at most.
 These research workers state that these three ideas are wrong and that (a) it is possible for a person to have been under water for up to half an hour and live, (b) all signs of life may be absent in these cases for "hours" and the individual is still alive, and (c) artificial respiration should be kept up for many hours in cases of apparent drowning just as in electric shock and carbon monoxide poisoning.

The only really safe plan is to continue efforts until stiffening of the tissues (rigor mortis) has set in. To effect artificial breathing, place patient face downward on the ground; put your hands astride the patient's body in a kneeling position. Placing both hands flat in the small of his back with the thumbs nearly touching and the fingers spread out on each side of the body over lowest ribs, lean forward and steadily allow your body to fall over on your hands and so produce a firm (not violent) pressure. Then swing back and release pressure without lifting hands from patient's body. Repeat this forward and backward movement every four or five seconds.

Send today for Dr. Barton's useful booklet on the two social diseases so prevalent—gonorrhea and syphilis. Know the truth, protect yourself, and save endless worry. Send your request to Dr. Barton, The Bell Library, 247 West 43rd Street, New York, N. Y., mentioning the name of the Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclosing ten cents to cover cost of service and handling.

SHOKAN

Shokan, July 7.—Mrs. A. Machrie of Brooklyn is a guest at the summer home of Miss Helen Gilmore on the state road.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moran and children are at the Francis Hughes home for their annual vacation.

Miss Marjorie Hartvig is keeping house for her brothers, Arthur and John Hartvig, in the absence of their mother, who is in Arizona. Brooklyn residents stopping at the B. Nadal farmhouse include Mrs. Consuelo Puga and Mrs. Angel Carnera.

Joseph Naughton is expected here next week. Mr. Naughton, who is a retired New York city lieutenant of police, plans to add two rooms to the Walter Naughton bungalow on the ridge road during his stay in Shokan.

Up to Thursday night there had been no good rain here since Friday when there was a fairly heavy shower. Streams are lower than ever, and some of the villagers, finding their well water rocky, are becoming concerned about water supply.

James Carpenter is enjoying a vacation with his family here. Mr. Carpenter is connected with a Wall Street banking house. The Ridge road near Krot's corner is hardly fit for automobile travel. There have been deep ruts in the dirt pavements for months, without anything having been done about it.

Mrs. Lawrence Spencer of the north boulevard is spending some time out in town while her recuperating from the effects of a bad fall, sustained at her home two weeks ago.

Al Weber, well known Long Island amateur aviator, has been rusticated in the village for a few days.

Joseph Dutelle of West Point spent the Fourth with his friend, Kenneth Olson.

July 6, 1883, the death took place of Daniel J. Adams of Brookhead. Mr. Adams was a member of the Shokan M. E. Church.

Mr. G. Richter and son, Joe, of Glendale, L. I., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richter on the state road.

Charles Duloff this week got out a special sawing of lumber for the Hellmann country home near Boiceville.

At the Nadal farmhouse this week is Miss Gladys Kapikian of Boston, L. I., and Miss Gloria Gonzalez and Raul Gonzalez, Jr., of Bayonne, N. J.

Members of the Joseph Lauber family of New York were at their summer home on the L. Thiel farm over the holiday.

Paul James, corner store merchant, reports an appreciable decline in cigarette sales as a result of the new state tax. Mr. James, who is one of the largest rural retailers of tobacco in the county, says that a number of smokers are making quite a kick about the latest raid on the taxpayers.

Roy Lane has secured employment in Kingston. Edward Every is occupying the former Lane residence on the old CCC camp grounds on Route 28.

Werner Richter is spending a few days with his friend, Tommy Reardon, at the Reardon summer residence here.

Isaac Jones has been trying out one of the new styles busses, with sliding side door, for the Pine Hill Bus Company.

Mrs. Inez Corley of Philadelphia is expected at her camp along the East Butternutkill some time next week.

Forestry crews, searching for wild currant and gooseberry bushes in the pine forests of the reservoir preserve, have covered a lot of ground during the past few weeks. Each crew systematically examines all of the ground in parallel strips; the bushes, or ribes, when found are uprooted, stripped of their crowns and large roots, and hung in tree crotches to die.

Savoy cabbage is a fine home garden vegetable. It is not often found in markets though its crinkled leaves have a special flavor.

FARM BOY—A turn at a tractor wheel seems to satisfy War Secretary Harry H. Woodring, who spent a recent holiday on the Carson F. Merz farm in Somerset county, Pa. The secretary learned about farming as a boy in his native Kansas.

MASS FLIGHT INTO THE SUNSET—Some idea of the size of the navy's patrol bombers is gained from view of one of them, taken at San Diego before the recent nonstop mass flight of 15 such planes to Pearl Harbor, the nation's Pacific "Gibraltar."

OTHER FISH IN THE SEA—Fish names seem appropriate for these underwater craft, submarines of Uncle Sam's navy, shown alongside their mother ship, the U.S.S. Holland, at San Diego. From right to left are the Sturgeon, the Permit and the Pickrel. The submarines have since gone to Hawaiian waters to engage in maneuvers with other surface and undersea craft.

DOES THIS BOAR YOU?—No chances were taken by the photographer in getting this life-like closeup of a wild boar. The animal is stuffed in the best German tradition, and is a drawing card at the newly-opened colonial exhibition in Dresden. There it is described as one of the animals living in former German colonies. Note the eyes set well up on the head.

HEALTH AH-OY!—Their appetites whetted by sea air, children aboard the St. John's Guild floating hospital eat lunch with great zest, as their ship cruises around lower New York harbor. More than 30,000 underprivileged youngsters got these summer meals last year. Games, movies, meals and even baths are on the trip program for children, who are all under 12 years.

PRETTY PINCH-HITTER—Autograph fans anxious to collect Joe DiMaggio's signature were glad to get that of Dorothy Arnold, instead, when this pretty fluncheon of the Yankee outfielder saw the boy friend perform at Yankee stadium, N. Y.

VALHALLA!—Before more than 61,000 happy-eyed fans in N. Y. stands Lou Gehrig, the "Iron Horse" benched by chronic infantile paralysis. With choking voice, Lou acknowledged cheers and gifts marking his farewell to active baseball.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)
Just Fate
Philadelphia — Justice finally overtook a mouse which baffled police for a week by stealing bird seed from the cage of their pet canary, "Pete."
Caught in the act by Clerk Charles Kelly, the mouse scurried for hiding, plopped into a pail of water and drowned.

Quick Catch
Valdese, N. C.—Police of Winston-Salem, 100 miles away, telephoned Night Policeman J. P. Stilwell to watch for an automobile stolen there June 26.
After getting the description and license number he walked out of his house to report for duty.
Twenty yards away he spotted the car and arrested the driver.
Revenge
Portland, Ore.—"Where have I seen you before?" asked Acting Judge J. J. Quillin of a transient charged with drunkenness.

"Why, I remember! You handled me and when I refused you gave me the best 'cussing out' I ever received."
"Thirty days."
Backfire
Livingston, Mont.—A large tomcat was stalking a robin. Incensed, William B. Calhoun threw a rock at the cat, missed. Calhoun went to a hospital, his arm broken by the heave.

Paris Wears Organdy

Mainbocher builds summer freshness and youthful charm with white tulle, white satin ribbons and a big white rose. Satin ribbons band bodice and skirt.

By ALICE MAXWELL
AP Feature Service Writer

Paris—Organdy embroidered in musical notes or printed in "tiled floor" blocks, silver dotted pique and chenille spotted net make some of the smartest summer evening frocks by Paris designers.

Foot-square blocks of color, looking like tiles, "pave" evening organdies in pastel shades of mauve, pink, green and blue, with gold or silver threads running between the blocks. Other organdies are embroidered in musical motifs carried out in shimmering colored lame threads. White cotton pique is given a shimmering touch with woven silver dots and black net lightened with spots of fluffy white chenille.

Glittering touches marked a number of evening frocks worn by smart continental during the "little season," climaxing with the great racing week. Princess Karam of Kharthola wore a gown of corn colored crepe having a deep border of field flowers embroidered in multi-colored paillettes, and Madame Georges Levy appeared in a white spangled blue crepe frock. White and silver paillettes lent sparkle to Mrs. Frank J. Gould's white tulle gown and gold bees were embroidered on the skirt of a pale green satin Directoire evening dress worn by Madame Jean Ralli.

Costumes worn at the races made just as colorful fashion news. Many printed, as well as plain costumes, were seen—all worn with smart accessories. The South American beauty, Madame Martinez de Hoz, watched the races in a pale green printed four-trail topped by a large hat of natural straw trimmed in pale green aigrets. A diamond brooch gleamed in her dark hair and two diamond clips held her girdle at the back.

The Princess Fougny Lucigne wore a royal blue and white floral printed crepe with a white-trimmed blue straw hat of large dimensions and royal blue open-work pumps. Another smart Parisian matched her beige printed frock with a complete set of beige accessories, including a rolled up "Chamberlain."

Light blue accessories accompanied many navy blue costumes and brown accents smartened white ones.

Long gloves companioned short sleeves with suede or kid handbags swinging on an arm. Sashes and scarfs in two-toned chiffon floated in the breeze. Veils lent airy motion as women stepped along in high-heeled perforated pumps or openwork sandals.

Let Peaches Launch Your Canning Season

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
(AP Feature Service Writer)

Peaches are on the market; plums are, too. Time to start your canning.

There's nothing like a home-made spread for your morning toast; for a tasty sandwich; or to serve with a roast or fowl.

Here are some good ideas for peach and plum delicacies:

PLUM CONSERVE—Wash 6 pounds of ripe, red plums. Put in a kettle and cover with cold water. Cook slowly until plums are very soft. Cool, discard pits and measure the pulp and juice. For each 4 cups of juice, add 4 cups of granulated sugar, 1 cup of

RIPE PEACH JELLY
(Makes About 6 medium glasses)

2½ cups juice 1 box powdered fruit pectin
¾ cup granulated sugar

To prepare juice, pit and crush thoroughly (do not peel) about 2½ pounds fully ripe peaches. Add one cup water. Bring to a boil and let simmer, covered for 10 minutes. (Add a few crushed peach-pit meats to fruit during cooking.) Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (If there is a slight shortage of juice, add small amount of water to pulp in jelly cloth and squeeze again.)

Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure juice into a 3- to 4-quart saucepan.

Place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin. Mix well and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. Continue stirring, bring to a full boil, and boil hard half a minute.

Remove from fire. Skim. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once.

crushed pineapple, 2 teaspoon of cinnamon and ½ teaspoon each of cloves and nutmeg. Cook the mixture until it's jelly-like when tested on a cold plate. Pour into sterilized glasses and when cool, seal with melted paraffin.

Ripe peaches, so good to eat when they're fresh, will be almost as good next winter if you make them into jelly now.

PLUM JELLY—Select fruit, fresh but not over-ripe. Measure the plums and add half as much water. Cook slowly until the plums are very soft, then pour into a jelly bag suspended above a large bowl. Let drip at least 12 hours. When ready to make the jelly measure the juice and put 4 cups in a kettle and boil gently 4 minutes. Remove any foam. Pour in 3 cups of granulated sugar, mix thoroughly with a long-handled wooden spoon and boil slowly (stirring often) until a few drops of hot juice jelly after a minute on a cold plate. Remove the cooking jelly from the fire while making this done test. Pour into sterilized glasses and when cool (usually the next day) seal with melted paraffin.

IT IS best to cook not more than four cups of juice at a time. Two pansful, however, can be going at one time if you watch both. Be careful not to over-cook jelly or the flavor becomes strong, the color dark and it will not stiffen. Over-cooked mixture sometimes may be used up in conserve or jam mixture. If the jelly seems thin when cool, put the glasses in a shallow pan filled with warm water and bake 20 minutes in a moderately slow oven. Or merely set the glasses in a window, taking care to keep out dust.

PEACH MARMALADE—Put 6 cups of peeled peaches in a pan, add the juice and chopped rind of a large orange, mix in 3 table-spoons of lemon juice and 6 cups of granulated sugar. Boil until thick. Stir often.

Irregular shaped plums can be made into jam by cooking until soft in water and then pressing them through a sieve to remove seeds and hard parts.

To sterilize glasses for jelly, wash well and rinse thoroughly, then place them in a deep pan. Cover with water and slowly bring it to the boiling point and boil gently 20 minutes—add more boiling water if needed to keep the glasses well covered. Fish out the hot glasses, wipe them dry and use them as soon as possible.

Peaches need the addition of some other fruit high in pectin—plums or apples are two—to make them jelly, but they make delicious jams and conserves. Always select ripe peaches to assure good flavor. Peel them with a silver or silver-plated knife to prevent darkening, or cover them with boiling water and, after three minutes, drain and the peelings can be easily slipped off.

The purser will handle tips for those you might not see before you leave the boat.

By JOAN DURHAM
AP Feature Service Writer

Are you going to the Caribbean or South America on your vacation this year? Then here are some points from Edna Mae Stark, who advised thousands of travelers.

You "dress" every night out, except the first, on Caribbean cruises. Men usually wear white dinner jackets; women wear dinner dresses shedding the jackets when the ship gets into hot climate. If you're going to be entertained in South American homes, a sheer black or dark blue dress is a must.

Don't wear slacks or shorts in the dining salon or on the promenade deck. But almost any costume goes on the beach deck.

Tips for two weeks' cruises amount to about:

Room stewards—$10 for two passengers, $7.50 for one. The room stewards aren't tipped unless you call on her for service. Then she gets about $3.

Waiters—$10 for two passengers, $7.50 for one.

Deck stewards—$3 a passenger. (The charge for the deck chair is not your tip.)

Bar—10 per cent of the bill. You'll probably sign for your drinks and pay at the end of the voyage.

Page boys—about 10 cents a job.

Month-long cruises rate tips about 50 per cent higher.

You can leave tips with the purser for people you might not see before leaving ship.

Helps for Housewives

This cheese ball idea will hit the spot when served on a portion of fresh or canned fruit salad. Mix one cup of cottage cheese with two tablespoons of horseradish, one tablespoon of chopped green pepper, one teaspoon each of chopped pimientos and parsley. Add a little salt and paprika. Shape into half-inch balls and roll in grated cheese mixed with sliced nutmeats.

Glazed pears make delicious topping for baked sliced ham. Brown six halves of pears in four tablespoons of fat, add half a cup of brown sugar, one tablespoon of butter and one teaspoon of cinnamon. Simmer five minutes or until the pears are well glazed, then cover the ham (cooked) and bake 10 minutes.

If you have a modern styled kitchen, choose curtains of plain colored chintz or crash. Decorate each with three half-inch bands of bias tape sewed on the top and bottom. Use a color that accents the scheme of the kitchen. Sew ivory colored bone rings on each curtain and run them on a curtain rod.

For something "new" mix equal parts of shrimp or crabmeat with grapefruit segments, add a little diced celery and seasoning and serve with French dressing. For summer serving it is just the thing for a salad appetizer course for luncheon or supper.

You can dry mint right out of your mint bed and use it for seasonings. Dip fresh mint into boiling water, shake dry and then place in a pan and set in a moderately hot oven. Bake until the mint will crumble in your fingers. Store in a covered glass jar.

The art project of the WPA has produced 45,000 easel paintings and numerous murals.

If You Tire Easily—Watch Your Nerves!

Change Exhaustion to Vitality

Just "sunk" after a little work or fun—do you require quiet, hate even the sound of the radio? Nerves may be the cause! Don't let nervous exhaustion make you a wet blanket, rob life of joy. Your nerves are sensitive, true, but properly understood, they can make you more vital, charming than placid people.

Frequently the root of nerves is in childhood, psychologists say. If you were much petted, shielded, you may find it difficult to "harden" yourself to grown-up life. You strew over every petty worry that comes along.

Get a sense of proportion. If friend husband is late for dinner, the cleaner lost a button on your dress, turn to some book on great achievements, heroic deeds—you'll soon quit fretting.

Wise, too, is a build-up program for your physical health. Get out and sun-bathe. The sunlight means more red cells in the blood, renews vitality, gives Vitamin D.

Be a new person, a "successful neurotic"! In our 32-page booklet a famous physician discusses the underlying physical and mental causes for "nerves." Tells how to overcome worry, sleeplessness, nervous fatigue and irritability, gives proper diet and body care.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of OVERCOMING "NERVES" AND EVERY-DAY HEALTH PROBLEMS to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Woodwork Cleaning

To clean enameled woodwork, melt ½ cup shaved soap in two cups of boiling water. Whip to a lather and apply with a sponge to a small space at a time. Wash, then wipe off the suds with a dry cloth and quickly rinse with a clean soft cloth. Proceed until all the woodwork has been cleaned. This method helps prevent streaking.

Sugar In Pies

If you have trouble with the sugar in fruit or berry pies, try this: Put only half the required quantity of sugar in the pie at first. Mix the rest with half the quantity of water and boil it three minutes. When the pie has baked about 20 minutes, pour the syrup into the pie through a paper funnel stuck through one of the steam holes.

Some Facts About Lipstick, A $20,000,000 U. S. Industry

By BETTY CLARKE
(AP Feature Service Writer)

What do you know about that lipstick you're wearing?

For, unless you're one American woman in eight, you are wearing lipstick, according to a recent survey. The American woman's lipstick bill has been put at $20,000,000 a year.

There are four things you should expect of a reasonably good lipstick. First, of course, it should not be harmful; then it should color the lips, lubricate them and retain its shape and color in warm weather.

Most lipsticks contain about five types of ingredients: A base, usually lanolin; the color, a perfume and about 1 per cent of some preservative.

The color is probably the most important and most controversial ingredient. Kenneth Ebert, New York coloring consultant, estimates that at least 200 shades of lipstick could be found in New York city alone. The Toilet Goods Association estimates there are 300 different lipsticks on the market.

Most so-called indelible lipsticks contain two types of coloring matter: a lake color, supposed to stay on the surface of the lips; and a dye that stains the lip tissues slightly.

There also are liquid lipsticks and lip rouges. Rouges differ from lipsticks mainly in having a smaller quantity of wax.

Lipstick is an important item in the beauty kit of almost every woman. It is said to be for seven out of every eight American women.

What he wants is room to scramble around to his heart's content. Turn him loose with plenty of floor space to play in and he has a fine, independent time—too busy to make those funny faces.

Vacation Health Tips

By The AP Feature Service
You will come back from that vacation healthier and happier if you make room in your bag for these tips, compiled from recent suggestions in American Medical Association publications:

SWIMMERS: Breathe through mouth to avoid sinus and ear infections that may result if water washes away protective mucus from nasal membranes.

HIKERS: Take it easy the first few days, and remember that your heart and lungs have to work harder in the mountains than at sea level.

WOODSMEN: If you contact poison ivy, wash exposed skin areas with strong laundry soap (without scrubbing) and then cleanse with gasoline.

SUN-BATHERS: Authorities advise that too much tan shuts out ultra-violet rays from the deeper skin layers and reduces their beneficial effects.

CAMP COOKS: For ordinary burns of limited extent, apply strong tea or a solution containing as much baking soda as water will dissolve.

Maverick Concert
Samuel Gardner, nationally known violinist, will appear as soloist and conductor at the Maverick concert to be given Sunday at 4 o'clock. Mr. Gardner, who claims Kingston as his birthplace, has appeared with many leading symphony orchestras. He is at present on the faculty of the Juillard School of Music in New York city. Mr. Gardner will appear with Victor Mucci in the concerto for two violins by Moszkowsky. Two additional performers in addition to Mr. Mucci and Mr. Wigler of the regular Maverick Quartet are coming from New York city for these numbers. Henrietta Gardner will be the piano accompanist.

'Boost Kingston' Emblems Issued

In keeping with the movement to "Boost Kingston" which has been carried on through such events as the Apple Blossom Festival and the Kingston-Ulster County Day, the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the distribution of "Boost Kingston" emblems like the one represented here to garages and service stations which will distribute them to automobile owners who call for their services.

These emblems are being distributed by Warren F. Smith of the Smith Advertising Service of 41 North Front street, creators of these emblems as well as the Apple Blossom Seals used during both the 1938 and 1939 festivals. The Rev. Albert H. Shultis, pastor of the Rosendale Reformed Church and formerly of Kingston, designed the emblems which depict the three most prominent advantages of Kingston: Historical background represented by the Old Senate House; manufacturing, showing a factory and residential picturing a typical old Dutch Colonial home. These are bound by concentric circles and a panel with the name Kingston, Ulster county, in the lower center. Mr. Shultis also designed the first Apple Blossom Seals.

There are three different types of emblems, two for automobiles and one for individual use on mail. Of the two automobile emblems, one is for local cars and one to be used for "guests" of Kingston. The service stations and garages are doing their best to see that every car belonging in Kingston and every car passing through Kingston will display one of these emblems to advertise the city.

Harry G. LaMotte, president of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce, says that Canada, Texas, Massachusetts and others are using this means to make their own regions popular. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is an organization of younger business and professional men interested in promoting the community.
